Chapter 4: In the evening, he lay with her in the guest room. In the end, she was not at all sure whether she wanted to cry or to shout. For the first time in her life, she went through physical pain which she had not experienced before. She had been forced to have sex and she could not even try to resist. She was still not sure how many times he had done this to her. She was still not sure whether she had fallen in love with him. Her head was still unclear on several things. In the room, she could not even read any book, since her eyes were too swollen. She was alone in this new world which had come suddenly. She could not read her bedtime story, even if she had been so inclined. If she were to cry, then she would not be able to stop herself from crying. She was furious at this man. For the first time, she wanted to forget this man who had caused her to have a child. For the first time, she was overwhelmed by an emotion such as compassion. She had started to hate herself for how her life had turned out. She did not know what she was going to do. She would have to go and see Jin. She was still worried about this. It was on the first day of her class. Before starting
